His Excellency President Perdinand E. Marcos Malacanang Palace Manila Republic of the Philippines

Dear Er. President:

In 1974 I sent to Mr. Kukrit Pramoj, who is well-known to you and whom I deeply respect, some secret American documents revealing the dangers for the countries concerned of having U.S. troops and advisers stationed on their territories. Recent developments in Thailand suggest that those documents were both timely and to the point for Mr. Eukrit Pramoj.

Now I am sending these documents to you in the hope that they will also be of use to your Government. I am doing this as one of an American group opposed to excessive U.S. military involvement in matters beyond the scope of reasonable American interest.

TISTRODUCTION

This YCP SECRET classified supplement FM 30-312, owing to its specially esnaitive nature, is not a standard issue in the FM series.

TH 30-31 provided guidance on destrine, testics and techniques for intelligence support of U.S. Army stability operations in the internal defense environment. As it was intended for wide distribution, its contents were limited to matter directly concerned with country insurgency and with joint U.S. and host country (BC) operations to stours stability.

TM 30-31E, on the other hand, considers HC agencies themselves as trypte for U.S. Army intelligence. It does not repeat the general intelligence guidence laid down in other describes, such as FM 30-31 and FM 30-31A. Its six is limited to attending the importance of HC agenties as a tricial field for intelligence eperations and to indicating certain directions in which the producement of interestions about the host country, is a manner norm general that that required by a straightforward counterinsurgency, may advance overall U.S. interests.

Operations in this special field are to be regarded as strictly clarifuntine, since the admosticized involvment of the U.S. Army in HC affairs in costricted to the area of everparation against incurrency or threats of their green. The fact that U.S. Army involvment goes despur can in no circumstance be acknowledged.

The use of the term "HC agencies" in this supplement may be taken to man, according to content:

- z. The HI organization for internal defense operations.
- b. The FC street forces generally.
- e. BC splaces other than the erned forces, e.g. the police and other civiling security agencies, national and local administrative bodies, proper good expenientices.

In other words, U.S. Army intelligence has a wide-running role in assistance to determine the precise country intelligence entertial of the hest country in all its aspects and the relation of that potential to U.S. policy. In purvising its more appointent military objectives, it should not neglect the wider wring its more appointed military objectives, it should not neglect the wider appoint of U.S. interasts wherever opportunity offers to further them.

Emeral

As indicated in PM 30-31, most recent incorporates have taken place in developing nations or in nations needly emerged from former columies.

D.S. involvement in there less-developed mations threatened by insurgency is part of the world-wide U.S. involvement in the struggle against Communism. Insurgency may have other than Communist origins, in tribal, recial, religious, or regional differences. But, whatever its source, the fact of insurgency offers opportunities for Communist infiltration which, in the ebacace of oriented we countricessures, may commune in a successful Communist take-over. Therefore, the extension determining the nature and degree of U.S. involvement is the political status of the BC government in relation to Communism on the crallend and to U.S. interests on the other.

2. Reed for Folitical Flexibility

The U.S. Army, in line with other U.S. agencies, is not cornitted irrecocably to the support of any particular government in the heat country for a pariety of reasons:

- a. A government enjoying U.S. support may weaken in the ver against Com-
- b. It may compromise tracks by failing to raffers the interests of faintetent sections of the matter.
- c. It may drift into extreme matimalist attitudes which are incompatible with or hostile to U.S. interests.

Sont ferters may scente a mituation to which T.S. intercent sequite the appear of gratuum out direction enabling the bost country to obtain rure construction tensite from U.S. projectance and judiance.

while joint counterlastryancy operations are untelly and preferably triducted in the motor of frieder, justice, and descriptly the matter of a regime descriptly and return of a regime descriptly and matters of a regime descriptly are full supports.

For of the less-developed nations provide fertile soil for democracy in any manningful serve. Covernment influence, persuadive or brutal, in brought to bear on elections at all levels; traditions of autocratic rule are so deaply rooted that there is often little popular will to be assertained.

Nevertheless, U.S. contern for world opinion is letter satisfied if regimes enjoying U.S. support observe democratic processes, or at least maintain a democratic fraction. Therefore, a democratic structure is to be released always subject by the essential tent that it satisfies the requirements of an anti-Communist posture. If it does not satisfy those requirements, serious attention unot be given to possible positionations of the essential.

3. Characteristic tulnerabilities of HC Regimes

In the light of the above considerations affecting U.S. policy, estables and be drawn to contain valuerabilities inherent in the nature of cont region in the lere-developed pations:

- a. In consequence of their bankwardress or recent origin or both, the regimes against which insurpracies are directed usually suffer from receises uses and instability. Their leading political figures are often inemperished autually integralation, and corrupt. Then leaders of emerptional number when their efforts are often Impurated by povernment exchinery illeadapted to rad the conditions and manually inefficient and underpaid personnel.
- b. These weaknesses give rise to a wide ever of possible contacts between exployers of government agencies and the insurgency. Busing regard to the thrusted instability of the regimes, the desire for rejectance coming their negoties against profible tetal or partial victory for the insurgency is ride-spread.
- e. In root tasts of internal conflict in the last-divident mations, had also elain a rangely of nationalistic purity. But the eiter continuously said relatively event elementary of U.S. support gives the innergacy said particularly local elementary by laying the rooms open to therres of puretry. The frequirt consequence is a greath of noti-fraction feeling among both the public in record and enlayers of the runte including the armed forces. Whether the street facts are enlayered to the shape or demineta in they usually relieve his never and shape its referrablication.
- U.S. Army-incorpor in the SC symed forces is not confined to a number starfor-forcising it was a much which holitical factor. In most new and developdom numbers, the named intern play of investment role in polytood life, and the attendance of the role is enhanced whenever a regime is confront it by armal the masses colling for military commonweapers.

U.S. ARTY INTELLIGENCE TASKS.

I Identification of Special Targets

For Anny investigance is in a position to presure information over a widerange of HC percentage activity. But the specialist interests of the U.S. Army require that the major part of its intelligance effort be directed towords the EC erry and related HC organizations for internal defence operations.

. Special involligence targets within the MC army include the well-placed personnel of:

- a. Enice or pariousl and local level with which U.S. Arry intelligence is in direct social contoct.
- t. Units at ranford and local level with which U.S. Arry intelligence, usually through the decive of its working contacts, can not blish productive course; outside the limits of noted military activity.

- c. To extend the wore forms of protection to all MG agencies falling within the field of U.S. Army intelligence operations.

The schiavement of these objectives rails for the timely recognition of valmerabilities in hC spencies and for timely counteraction by U.S. Army innelligamen.

Recognition of MC Yulnerabilities

The symptoms of vulnerability smolg NC agencies calling for investigation, identification and action by U.S. Army intelligence include:

- a. Indition wordishifty, such as lukeware attitudes towards the region, sympathy with the insurgency, outright collaboration with the insurgency.
- b. Anti-Intrication arising from exposure to insurgent propagation from filey; tion between employees of HC and U.S. organizations at the parameter working from the too obvious presence of American personnel in the rule of somious parties.
- e. Bleed relationables linking employees of the NO powermant with the investigency. . 6: - U.S. Army Intelligence Action

U.S. Army intelligence must be prepared to recommend appropriate setten in the breat of hymptors of mulnerability persisting long though to become pusitively demograph. Such action may include essence taken against individuals, or more general massives desirated to put pressure on groups, spendies, or, is, the last masers, on the MG government itself.

It is desirable that U.S. Army intelligence should obtain the retiral cooperation of the appropriate PC authority in purseing municipal avenues against EC citizens. But there are exercised combined action in frustrated by discrepant or conflicting aims and interests, and where U.S. Army intelligence must defind the U.S. position against contrary forces at work in the last country.

This area of divergence or conflict is eften entered in the matter of punitive action against individuals who may be protected by a tangle of personal, political and burse service complications.

Action designed to influence or pressurize NC appropriate or the government itself projugates a situation in which U.S. interests are at attion. Heatural appropriate to a given situation may be official or unofficial.

Difficial action is not relevant to the fesuer discussed in this docusent? But enefficial cation involving clarifortinity falls into the opera of responsibility classed by U.S. Atey intelligence with other U.S. erencies.

CHAPTER 6

HITELLIGENCE GUIDANCE

7. Ecneral

The success of futernal stability operations undertaken by U.S. Arm, intelligence in the francisc of internal defense depends to a considerable extent on the depres of satisfic understanding between American personnel and the personnel of evention of the host country.

Forever, whitever the digree of samual understanding between U.S. personnal and their HC expectes numbers, a more reliable basis for the solution of U.S.Arry intelligence problems is the availability in HC agencies of individuals with when U.S. Army intelligence maintains agent relationships.

Therefore, the recruitment of leading numbers of RC agencies in the capacity of long-term agents is an important requirement.

3. Recruitment for Intelligence Purposes

For the special perposes of U.S. Army intelligence, the most important field, of recruiting antivity is the officer corps of the NC erry. In many leas-developed at sations, efficers of the smad ferest tend to be of preparties origin, conserved tive by virtues of featly background and education, and therefore receptive to countrice they not infrequently play a decisive role in determining the course of dealing ont in some of chair, respective acoustics.

The following extended is assufre special attention with a view to its prize temperature at Branding directives to U.S. instructors at U.S. training conblishments require the study of officers mantiched in sub-paragraph 2 (b) shows from the point of view of political loyalty; of their immunity from Communist ideology and their devotion to the demonstrate ideals of the United States. The Secret Annua to the first training report on each Ut offices passing through a U.S. training program contains an assessment of his prespects and possibilities as a long-term agent of U.S. Army intelligence.

Questions of recruitment are treated in greater datail in Em 10-314 where the general detries severaling agent intelligence (NECLUTE is several and elaborated. The directives laid from there should be applied to recruiting operations suvitaging HC government-agencies.

9. Assistance from U.S. Citizens Abroad

U.S. Army intellinence must take into account potential assistance from U.S. efficient working in the best countries, both as direct sources of information and as indicators of leads for the recynitment of HC citizens, efficial and otherwise, as long-term intelligence agents. Such U.S. citizens include officials working for openies other than the U.S. Army, and U.S. businessam, as well as representatives of the mass madis, operating in the host countries.

10. Panetration of the Insurcent Povement

In FM 30-31 attention was drain to the importance of HC accreis minerrating the insurpost reviews by apent means with a view to successful counterposition. It was pointed our that there was a fanger of insurgint agents penetrating MC larges organizations, government enemoises, police, and military intelligence units with a view to the collection of secret intelligence. Streng was also laid on the probability that that they are becomed from MC agencies about insurpost the probability that that they are become of exist may influence that incurrent accluding in subcrete that provinces they are becomes and are therefore in a position to approximate provinces moves.

In this connection, U.S. ormy intelligence should pursue two main lines of action:

- e. It should address to directly aposts infiltreend date the inscreament by the executive for functional statement with a view to extend this ela descript control by 0.5. Army intelligence over the work of such aposts. the personnel of HC agencies wight be of par audiar value in determining the preper conduct of U.S. Army intelligence and in suggesting timely recourse to further U.S. interests.

11. Agents on Special Operations

There may be times when HC governments show passivity or indecision in face of Communist by Communist-inspired subversion, and react with inadequate vigor to intelligence estimate, transmitted by V.S. agencies. Such situations are particularly likely to spine when the inaurgency seeks to schieve testical salvantage by temporarily refraining from violence, thus littling HC authorities assume a state of false accurity. In such cases, U.S. Army intelligence what into a state of lausching special operations which will convince HC governments and public opinion of the reality of the insurgent deaper and of the necessity of counteraction.

To this end, U.S. Army intelligence should seek to penetrate the incorrectly by second of agents on special assignment, with the tesk of foreing special assignment, from a tesk of foreing special assignment, with the tesk of foreing special assignment, from a tesk of foreing special assignment. The foreign special special assignment of the from the special above arises, these groups, seeing under U.S. Army intelligence that control, should be used to launch wholest or monviolent actions according to the foreign of the case. Such actions could include those described in TH 30-31 and the characteristic Thisses II and III of insurgency.

In cases where the infiltration of such agents into the insurgent leadership has not been effectively implemented, it may help towards the achievament of the show eads to utilize ultra-leftiat organizations.

12. U.S. Army Intelligence Advantages

In the Ifrid of Homan Totalistence (NUMET), T.S. Army personnel entry is adventible of actions closely at runy levels with their apposite numbers in the national intelligence processe of the host country. By virtue of their generally superior training, experies and experience, they are well qualified to get the patter of any exchange arising from such ecoperation, even in Coaling with HC and personnel who contains them. This class cooperation enables D.S. Army intelligence to build up a temperature and detailed picture of the national intelligence attractors.
